 He would advise all private families, keepers of hotels, boarding-houses, confectionaries, &c., who wish a supply through the entire season, to make early application, and they will not be disappointed, as many were last summer, by one or two, small dealers in that article, who attempted to furnish and failed in the hottest weather, when it was most wanted.

TO THE AFFLICTED!

HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE FOR THE CURE OF CHRONIC DISEASES.—The most safe and certain remedy ever known to the world for various chronic diseases, after they have reached a state, and assumed a character, hitherto considered desperate and incurable.

Chronic Rheumatism, Scrofula, Kings Evil, attended with swellings and ulcers, sore eyes, and loss of sight, to a frightful extent, have been cured. Females pining away by reason of deranged secretions, broken calculations, and obstructed menses, (monthly courses) even when attended by spasms or fits, have been readily relieved.

Dyspepsia yields without a struggle to its mild yet powerful action upon the stomach. In Catarrh, or Cough, Rheumatism, and Fistula, it never fails to cure, as we have fully proved. All diseases having their origin in an impure state of the blood and fluids, will be speedily and effectually removed by this invaluable medicine.

This tincture tends directly to excite a healthy action in the stomach, liver, lungs, and kidneys, to purify the blood and other fluids, by expelling every particle of morbid matter from the system, and therefore never fails to prove a valuable remedy for the diseases which calomel has been invariably used. Old sores and ulcers, or any chronic affection; and for the calomel disease, it is an infallible remedy.

This remedy is perfectly vegetable, mild, agreeable, and safe for persons of any age, either sex, or any condition, acknowledged by those who have tried it, to be the best known family medicine.

The justly celebrated tincture creates a craving appetite, and the patient is left at liberty to indulge it. The use of this medicine will change the complexion from a pallid to a fine blooming one. After using this tincture for six weeks, a person of any age may eat anything that a child of ten years of age, in full health, could eat, without the least inconvenience.

Dr. Hampton is in possession of certificates from the Hon. Henry Clay, Col. Richard M. Johnson, Hon. John B. Dawson, of La., and many others, who have been benefited by the use of this tincture.

For certificates, &c., see pamphlet.

REMEMBER! Hampton's Vegetable Tincture can be had only at the Sugar Store of

H. G. RITTER,
 Pennsylvania avenue, between 11th and 12th streets, and at

A. G. GARDNER'S,
 Seed Store, F street, between 9th and 10th streets, opposite the Catholic church.

Each bottle has the proprietor's signature on the label. may 8-6m

THE TRUTH SOMETIMES NOT FOUND OUT UNTIL TOO LATE.

SUCH is often the case in regard to persons taking medicine. They are induced by plausible reasoning, false representation and doctrines, to employ medicines that, so far from being adapted to their disease or sickness, absolutely increase the symptoms, destroy the constitution, rack the whole system, and bring on a gradual decline, terminating in death; previous to the fatal termination, however, (but unfortunately too late,) the truth is found out that the pills, mixtures, &c. they have been taking were composed of the most powerful and dangerous ingredients, prepared too by persons knowing nothing of disease or the nature of the medicines they recommended, depending altogether upon the "general doctrine of such impostors," that their medicines will "kill or cure." Be advised, then, if you find it necessary to take some medicine for purifying the blood and cleansing the bowels, to take nothing but Dr. Leidy's justly and deservedly celebrated SARSAPARILLA BLOOD PILLS, the only pills containing Sarsaparilla in their composition—the safest and best as well as the most effectual that can be taken.

Old and young, at all times, without regard to weather, may take them without fear of taking cold, and without restraint from occupation or usual course of living. Upwards of 1,000 certificates have been published, various times, of their efficacy. More than 100,000 boxes have been sold in Philadelphia in twelve months. These facts go to prove their value, or so many never would be sold in so short a time, in a place where they are manufactured; this, however, arises in part from the fact that the manufacturer of them (Dr. Leidy) is well known at home as a regular physician and apothecary, knowing the true nature of diseases and of the medicines he recommends, attested by the most celebrated physicians, among whom are Dr. Nathaniel Chapman, Dr. Wm. Gibson, Dr. W. E. Horner, Dr. Samuel Jackson, Dr. Robert Hare, Dr. P. S. Physic, Dr. T. C. James, Dr. W. P. Dewees, Dr. J. Redman Cox, Rev. W. H. Delancy, Robert Adrian, L.L.D., &c. &c.

Orders for Dr. Leidy's BLOOD PILLS are daily received from the North, South, East, and West, and the most flattering accounts, from every direction, of their unparalleled success. A single box (25 cents) may save as many dollars, if taken in time, instead of the dangerous medicines now forced on the public, and by taking which persons so often find it necessary at last to take Dr. Leidy's Blood Pills, to counteract their injurious consequences.

They are prepared only, and sold Wholesale and Retail, at Dr. Leidy's Health Emporium, No. 191, North Second street, below Vine street, Philadelphia.

 apr 25-3m Agent for the District.

MIDNIGHT.

BY JOHN S. MOORE.

Of when pale Luna from her seat above,
 Enthroned aloft within the vaulted skies,
 Illumes each mount, and every shady grove,
 And sleeping earth, with gentle light supplies.

When all, in silence, roll the countless spheres,
 Through broad infinity's unmeasured space,
 Bespangling, with their sparkling diamond lamps,
 The vast expanse of Heaven's ethereal face.

Tis then sweet memory, with her pencil light,
 Portrays the actions of the glimmering past,
 And traces clear, before the mental sight,
 Where life's broad way has hitherto been cast.

Tis then Imagination, shoots afar,
 Swifter than light, beyond earth's narrow bound,
 Urges its flight to some bright blazing star,
 Or traverses the vast creation round.

BE A MAN.

What if you have been unsuccessful in trade? What if you owe every fifth person you meet, while you have but a sixpence in your pocket, and not know where to look for more when it is gone? Should you be discouraged? Be a man. Lift up your head and walk erect. Suffer not your spirits to be dampened, or your energies to lag. Others have been unfortunate before you; others are in debt, and what is worse have rotten characters to commence building a reputation upon, if they ever expect to be anything in life. If you are honest, if strict integrity has marked your course thus far, you have nothing to fear. For our part, we would prefer your situation and standing with not a mill in our pocket, than with thousands at our command, with broken constitutions, rotten characters, and a name, whose very sound awakens painful emotions.

To be something, you must exert yourself, not to-day, merely to to-morrow, but for a twelve-month, or a dozen of years to come, if need be.—To be a man, a real, sterling character, you should never be weary, never give out, never cease to exert yourself to the utmost of your ability.—There never was a man died poor, ignorant, and despaired, who put forth strenuous exertions to rise in the world. The thing is impossible. Be a man, then, we pray you. Look up and raise your standard high. Do something every day and look men full in the face without fear and trembling, and as true as you live, if you are now in debt, poor and despaired, you will rise to competency, to honor, and to true independence, in every sense of the word.—Portland Tribune.

THE OPENING AT WATERLOO.

The place where we were directed to execute this formation chanced to be particularly favorable for obtaining a view over the whole field of battle, as well as the overnight positions of the two armies. And never have these eyes of mine rested on a more imposing scene than for a brief space was spread out before them. As far as the eye could reach, I beheld endless columns of the French, the infantry in front, interlaced, as it were, with artillery, while in the rear were masses of cavalry, in comparison with which, as far as numbers go, we appeared as nothing. Then, again, on our side, I beheld horse, foot, and guns, all in admirable order, hidden, in some degree, from the enemy by the swell of the ground, yet all, as their attitudes denoted, thoroughly on the alert, while, both on our side and that of the French, staff officers in groups, and orderlies, one by one, were galloping hither and thither, as if they had been the veritable messengers of fate. But the vision was like that which the sleeper obtains when, for a moment, the gates of fairy land are opened before him. From the hundreds of cannon which sent forth death on each side, such a cloud of smoke arose as soon rendered objects indistinct; and when the musketry began to play, every living and dead thing on earth's surface was shrouded under a canopy of gray mist. It were idle in one filling the humble situation which I did to attempt anything like a description of a great battle, especially such a battle as that of Waterloo. From the instant that the firing became general, all was to me dark and obscure beyond the distance of a hundred yards from the spot on which I stood; indeed, it was only by the ceaseless roar, or the whistling of shot and shell around me, that I knew at times that I and those near me were playing a part in the grave game of life and death. For the cavalry, unlike the infantry, come into play only by fits and starts, and they have patiently to sustain the fury of a cannonade to which they can offer no resistance, and out of the range of which they are not permitted to move.—The Light Dragon.

A LONDON CAB DRIVER'S CHAT.

At last the vehicle went on, and the driver, with the air of a man who had done something smart, hitched himself straight in his seat and threw his great-coat tails over his knees. "A raw night, sir," said he addressing Mr. Burton. "Go along, you old Tory!" he continued in the same breath, addressing his horse. "Do you see that fellow there, going into Drury-Lane, sir! That man was tried last year for robbing a house, and I dare say he is plotting something now. Go along Billy! Macready plays to-night at the Garden, and there's to be a new hoppers at the Lane. Cut along, old horse! There's to be a frantic debate to-morrow in the 'ouse of Commons; a regular free and easy. I hear talk of putting down the 'bussas; but that ain't true. Pitch it into the wood pavement, old Herod, the Tetrach (whack, whack, whack!) That's a regular old-established 'orse, that is, and has been a pretty considerable time in this wale of tears; you see, he knows the short cuts as well as a Christian, and takes as much care of himself as if he had a wife and a family. Push along! (whack, whack!) do you think I stole you? No! (whack, whack, whack!) I should have stolen a livelier 'orse; yet the old tulip has paces when he likes to put them out; but he thinks within himself.

He once ran down a widdy woman, that horse did. Bowl away, old chap; never say skin me! That 'ere little boy has plenty of brothers and sisters, or he never would have run under the 'orse's head that way. My little boy, this mornin', says to me—he is only rising seven—Father, says he, I want a pair of top-boots; now, (being side-ways towards Mr. Burton, and striking the horse's flank) "that's what I call the march of intellect." "Well," (sitting erect again,) "this is a regular slimy night; and we are to have a storm, I can see that. I have to take a gentleman down to the Harryadne, a Scotch steamer, at nine o'clock; she was to have sailed in the mornin', but she hurt her windpipe somehow. I wish him joy of his voyage: anyhow I shall have had two fares out of it. Trip away, my daisy! (whack, whack, whack!) My eye! aint the wind getting up?—there will be a heavy crop of chimney-tops this blessed night; and my gentleman as goes by the Harryadne, won't he be able to write a spicy letter to his missus, if ever he gets safe to Leith? There's no kind of death that goes more against my grain than that 'ere drownin'. Lord, Lord! it's a nasty thing to be smothered with cold water!"—The Grave-digger.

HALL &amp; BROTHER.

LOVE AND PATRIOTISM, a Poem, by Richard L. Stewart Evans, Counsellor-at-Law, for sale at Brooke's periodical agency, and at Taylor's, Morrison's, and Farnham's bookstores.

The following extracts are taken from some of the notices:
 From the National Intelligencer.

LOVE AND PATRIOTISM, a Poem, pronounced by Richard S. Evans, at Bowdoin College, at the annual commencement. Portland—Charles Day & Co., printers.

The above is the title of a poem, by Richard S. Evans, of Washington, which has been just published in Portland, Maine. The following remarks upon this performance, are from the Portland Daily Advertiser, of September 7. It was amusing to listen to the observation to this performance. Nonsense, says one. Beautiful, adds another. Horrible, splendor, silly, and grand, were epithets profusely lavished. Surely that man is a poet who gains such praise and such abuse. And really we believe Evans can and should write poetry. There were parts of this Poem which appeared as pure and gorgeous poetry; for instance, the allusion to the American Bird in connexion with Poland; Campbell himself has not done better, &c.

From the Globe.

The following brief allusion to Poland, is from Evans's Poem on Love and Patriotism, a production which is very highly praised, &c.

From the Alexandria Gazette.

Mr. Richard S. Evans is a gentleman who has long occupied a conspicuous station, as an anonymous writer, in some of the principal literary journals; and to whom the world is indebted, for some of the finest specimens of poetry and learning, &c.
